

F* the love

Hello I'm Rosalie ,I'm 17 and I have a big problem ! Last month, my boyfriend broke up with me. He says that I was too much busy , we had never time to see us, and he adds that he can have someone much better than me. I really love him and I can't live without him , I'm not able to smile without him. MY friends try a lot to make me laught and smile. They are always ask me to hang out but I don't feel good. I do something with a couple of friend and an other boy , the boy falls in love with me but me i don't believe in love now . Ahhhh ! Life is complicated ! Now I feel depress and I lost all hapiness. I try to get busy like I start to runnig outside and I do my homework and study a lot but nothing is changing . Maybe someday I will find the good person for me and I will be happy with him. I hope that your answer will help me to find the smile and have a good life without my boyfriend. I write this letter for find a solution to my problem so I wish your letter will makes me happy . Thank you !
